

Richard Doornbosch (1973)

Richard Doornbosch joined the AFM's board on 1 September 2026. Within the board, he is responsible for the supervision of capital markets and accountancy.

Prior to this, Richard spent six years as President of the Central Bank of Curaçao and Sint Maarten. In this role, he led a wide ranging financial sector reform process and a transformation of organisation and culture of the central bank itself. He was an Alternate Executive Director at the International Monetary Fund and held positions at the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development in Paris, and at the Ministry of Finance and the Ministry of Health, Welfare and Sport in the Netherlands; he began his career as a management trainee at Rabobank International.

Richard has a strong background in finance and economics, extensive experience in financial supervision, central banking and international economic policy making. He combines this with extensive international experience and a track record in complex strategic change programs.

Richard studied General Economics and Business Economics at the University of Groningen.
